Admiral Stanfield Turner, Director
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D.C. 20510

Dear Admiral Turner:

As Chairman of the World Affairs Council of Boston, I would like to invite you to address our organization some time this fall, perhaps in October or early November. Our members have a keen interest in the work of your agency, as well as the overall intelligence-gathering structure maintained by the United States. A speech by you on current problems in the intelligence field would be very well received here.

We can guarantee you a diverse and influential audience in Boston, one which cuts across the spectrum of political affiliation and occupation -- in short, the kind of audience you would be most interested in reaching.

Our most recent speaker was General Alexander M. Haig, Jr., who spoke here June 23rd. Others who have made appearances before the Council in the recent past include Ambassador Andrew Young, Willy Brandt, Henry Kissinger, Robert McNamara, William Simon, Senators Kennedy and Brooke, George Ball, and many others.

We hope it will be possible for you to come to Boston this fall. We have just opened the new Curtis-Saval International Center, which houses seven of the city's international organizations, including the World Affairs Council, UNA, International Business Center, Japan Society, World Peace Foundation, Boston Committee on Foreign Relations, and the International Friendship League. This is a most significant development in the field of world affairs education in Boston and it would be very appropriate if you could be one of the first speakers as we begin this new and exciting period.

We have considerable flexibility on dates but I would like to suggest these as possibilities: October 4, 5, 9, 25, 26, 31, or November 1, 2, 8, 9, 21, 28, or 30. Other dates are, of course, possible but these are our preferred times. We can also arrange either a luncheon or a dinner, depending on your preference.

I look forward to hearing from you at your convenience regarding this invitation. We sincerely hope you can join us in Boston.

Sincerely,

Henry Cabot Lodge, Chairman
World Affairs Council
